Invitation to participate in

QUALITY OF LIFE RESEARCH IN DEMENTIA

This is an opportunity to share your experience.

What will the study involve?

We invite you to participate in a group discussion, known as a focus group. The aim of the focus group is to discuss the appropriateness of questionnaires that are used to assess the quality of life in individuals living with dementia. The focus group will last 60-90 minutes.

Participation in this study is voluntary and we will keep your responses confidential. All participants will be compensated for their time and travel.
